Read all about it...

This 1920's family home was built by one of Forest Hill's most famous fathers. Ted Christmas built quality family homes in the early 20th century and built in the Arts & Crafts style of the period. This home is nestled in a quiet road, just 0.6 miles from the station, and is over 115 sqm with three spacious double bedrooms on the first floor. Downstairs the wide hallway opens onto an airy lounge with leaded light bay to the front and feature fireplace, there is a separate dining room which is open to the cottage style kitchen.

Step into the private garden and you find a tranquil retreat perfect for unwinding or entertaining guests. The property is neat and tidy but does require some updating, it is also an opportunity to purchase a home in a location where property rarely comes to the market.

With no chain, the property offers a hassle-free transaction, allowing you to move forward with confidence. Enjoy easy access to local amenities, including shops, good schools, cafes, the terrific Forest Hill Swimming Pool and numerous local parks. There are excellent transport links into London, ensuring everything you need is within reach.
